

"Our mission: To increase understanding of people from a neurobehavioral perspective"

developmental process is different, moving through stages of understanding at different paces given our respective values and life experiences.

Schedule and Timeline: The year-long process begins with a four-day on-site training and planning session. Over the next eleven months, facilitator trainees will also participate in monthly group teleconferences and ongoing online/email discussions. A private Facebook page for the group may be used. The year will end with a three-day onsite training.

Facilitator materials: The facilitator manual includes an eight-part series with all handout masters for participants. It also includes sections with facilitator slides, training notes, resources, glossary, bibliography, a section with stories that illustrate key points, and a USB with all of these materials.

Cultural relevance: The "nugget" of Into Action's core concept is the idea that brain function and dysfunction is the source of behaviors. Application is based on linking that idea with behavioral symptoms and recognizing points of intervention to build on strengths and prevent problems. This universal core concept is relevant for everyone, regardless of culture, socio-economic status, or age.

Into Action introduces a concept, a different way of thinking. Facilitators support integration of that concept into participants' values, language, culture, and discipline, assuring relevance and applicability.

How is this TOT different from other TOTs? With most TOTs, participants attend the training, are provided with materials, and are then on their own to train others. This TOT is a process: Following the initial training, facilitators receive consultation to support application of the concepts presented. Experience has shown that Into Action facilitators benefit from support, while strengthening their skills in the application of the neurobehavioral model. Accordingly, this training is a year-long process, in order to provide support and assure fidelity between information and application.

Schedule and Location:

- February 25 - 28, 2020 (Tuesday-Friday), 9 am – 4 pm, The Mark Spencer Hotel, Portland, Oregon.
- Monthly two-hour group teleconference calls: Dates to be scheduled by the group during the first onsite training.
- Email/online consultation will be available throughout the year.
- February 24 - 26, 2021 (Wednesday-Friday), 9 am – 4 pm, The Mark Spencer Hotel, Portland, Oregon – Final onsite session and certification ceremony.

"Our mission: To increase understanding of people from a neurobehavioral perspective"

CEUS: 61 contact hours of Continuing Education Credit for NASW (National Association of Social Workers) have been approved. Certificates of completion will be provided. All participants will also receive a general certificate of completion for the training.

Certification: Certificates are provided upon successful completion of the year.

Agreement: Trainees and FASCETS Trainer will sign a mutual agreement. FASCETS agrees to provide materials, consultation, and support for the year, and the trainees agrees to participate in all activities related to this Training of Trainers.

Fee: $4,750 for the year-long training, which includes all facilitator materials, seven on-site days of training, 20 hours of group teleconference time over the year, and additional email or webinar consultation. Please note: This includes daily morning and afternoon snacks and lunch on the last day of each onsite sessions. It does not include lunch on every day, travel, lodging or other expenses.

\ The prerequisite for this Training of Trainers is having attended a three-day workshop (or equivalent) on FASD & Other Neurobehavioral Conditions delivered by one of our certified facilitator of the FASCETS Neurobehavioral Model.*

For additional information, please contact Nathalie Brassard: nbrassard@fascets.org or call: 503-621-1271 ext. 001.